

The book takes you through the Rosary one bead at a time, one page at a time. This allows you to confidently go through the Rosary at your own pace without making mistakes.

- High quality paper
- Illustrated Rosary graphics
- Matching spiral binding
- Curved corners
- Lays flat
- Convenient size

Each page shows a highlighted bead. The prayers on that page correspond to the highlighted bead. By reading the prayers on a page, you can know how to say the correct prayers, which prayers are said first on a bead, and on which bead each prayer is said.

The illustrations on every page help to bring each mystery to mind. All of the illustrations are copyrighted and used with permission.

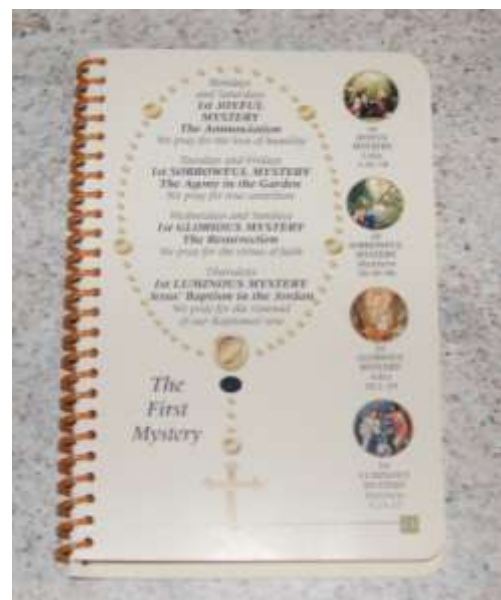

The Scriptural references underneath the illustrations give you the opportunity to look up the Bible stories that correspond to the mysteries. This feature is meant to encourage personal prayer using your own Bible.

In addition, spiral binding allows you to turn the book page back so you do not lose your place if you want to stop and meditate, or if you need to pause your Rosary for another reason.

Page numbers at the bottom make it easy for a latecomer to a prayer group to find the appropriate place in the book or Rosary without interrupting the other members. The late member can glance at someone's page number and know where everyone is in the Rosary.

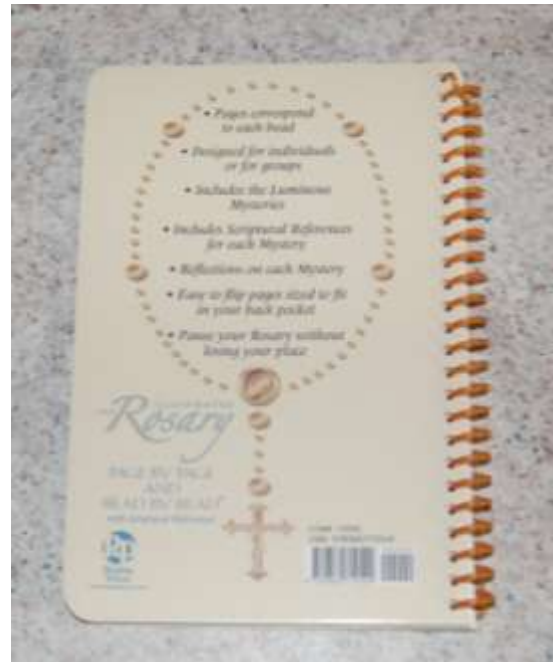

The page shown here announces the first mystery. Short, one-line reflections are given for each mystery. Also see that a bead is highlighted.

All prayers are in order so confidence is assured.

The back page lists features and benefits:

- Pages correspond to each bead
- Designed for individuals or for groups
- Includes the Luminous Mysteries
- Includes Scriptural References for each Mystery
- Reflections on each Mystery
- Easy to flip pages sized to fit in your back pocket
- Pause your Rosary without losing your place

Copyright 2009 Gigi Bush Taylor

Inside cover contains Nihil Obstat, Imprimatur, The Regina Press, Copyright 2009 Gigi Bush Taylor, and dedication to Will Taylor.